Dear Gary and,

The enclosed clip from the morning paper suggests another area in which you can offer me, if you are brazen enough to respond to the official D.J. Spaceman.

Have a counter on verse: I sued them. They were represented by the Assistant Attorney General referred to in this story and his subordinates. They and their superiors have an unblemished record of never writing me a single truthful letter (when they didn't ignore mine). I must have at least a dozen with mine, but, self serving - and very amateurish lies. We could mount copies for an opaque projector (after my sad experiences on the trip on which I met you, no more just paper or just pictures, for they get torn) and/or make 35mm slides.

Again, we are talking about the integrity of our society, as I told goldbeer yesterday, and the kids dig it - all but the egotists, who don't waste time in lecture halls, anyway.

It also won that suit, and they were so busy climbing walls they got careless and wrote a lie under oath. - but not pursuing the possibilities of perjury, which I think it is.

In this I can work some of the King case in before appearance of that book, for this suit was for what I knew I had a good chance of getting that I also could prove they were suppressing.

And I'll keep a file of clippings on what they say at these colleges, so I can, where I am competent, address that also. Men, could we blow minds with their record, this "law and order" administration with its updated Marie Antoinette as Mrs. Attorney General.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
